Protect yourself from wire fraud - never provide account details or send a wire to anyone who:

- you haven't met in person or asks you not to share details with your bank
- says they work at a well-known company or a government agency like the IRS or SSA
- pressures you into paying immediately or says a wire transfer is the only way you can pay
- wants you to send bitcoin or cash for money received into your account

When in doubt, contact your banker – we can help you spot the scam and protect your account!

The fee for an incoming wire ($5 domestic or 15.00 international) will be withdrawn from your account after a wire is received.
